

The PhD Students Annual Meeting is organized by Nursing Doctoral Program from Lisbon University. In 2016 takes place on May 18, 19 and 20 under the theme "The Quality in Scientific Research".
Is an excellent moment to improve research development in a transdisciplinary context for Nursing Doctoral Program students but also for PhD students from others national and international universities. This is an opportunity to meet colleagues and networking with others PhD students to discuss news perspectives and share ideas.
